Overview:
This course examines the causes and characteristics of sexually transmitted diseases including HIV/AIDS. Students will learn methods of transmission, effects of personal behaviors, and social implications.