How much will Scouting cost?
The registration fee to join the BSA is $24 per year. You can also subscribe to Boys’ Life Magazine for an additional $12, which is mailed directly to your son at home every month. Each Pack may have small fees to cover program and material costs. Youth have the chance to “earn their own way” by participating in our popcorn and camp card sales!

What is my role as a parent?
Cub Scouting is a program that parents and sons do together. Parents volunteers spend an average of 2-4 hours each week involved in Scouting activities. There are a variety of positions to fill including unit leaders, pack committee chairmen, committee members, den leaders, and chartered organization representatives. Training is provided to the parent.
